

Grand Valley State University

The Department of Writing at Grand Valley State University, in Allendale, Michigan, has a position available for an assistant professor.

A Ph.D. or terminal degree or international equivalent is required by time of employment. An ABD with a completion date of December 31, 2010 may be considered for hire at the Instructor level. Candidates are required to have expertise in one or more of the following areas: professional writing, health and science writing, technical communication, business communication and commercial magazine writing. We are especially interested in those with experience in writing and publication in more than one language.

The typical teaching load is 3 courses per semester and may include first-year composition and a range of courses in our curriculum, professional writing in particular. All candidates will have responsibility to perform up to department and university expectations in the areas of teaching, publication, and service.

Review of applications will begin November 2 and the position will remain open until filled.
