

Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago

Chair, Lewis Department of Humanities <<http://www.iit.edu/csl/hum>>

Illinois Institute of Technology seeks a distinguished teacher, scholar and leader as Chair of the Lewis Department of Humanities in IIT's College of Science and Letters. As the home of humanities research and teaching in an institute of technology, the department holds a special role in the education of all of IIT's students. In addition to a wide range of offerings in the undergraduate general education curriculum, the department offers BS degrees with specializations in art and architectural history, communication, history, journalism, language and linguistics, literature, and philosophy. BS, MS and PhD degrees are also offered in technical communication. IIT has strong programs in architecture, business, computer science, design, engineering, law, mathematics, math and science education, psychology, and the natural sciences, providing many opportunities for interdisciplinary collaboration. The position will be filled at the level of full professor and offers highly competitive compensation and benefits. Reviews will begin 10/15/09 and continue until the position is filled. Letters of interest, CV, three letters of reference and two publications should be submitted electronically (in either DOC or PDF format) to <facultysearch@iit.edu>. Questions and enquiries should be directed to the search committee Chair: Professor Norman Lederman at 312-567-3658 or at <ledermann@iit.edu>.

Illinois Institute of Technology is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.